History, Mission, and Organization

UNIVERSITY MISSION, VISION, AND VALUES

In 2009, AUC revised its mission to streamline it and to re-affirm its commitment both to the liberal arts and its historical focus on excellence in teaching, research, and service to Egypt and the international community. In 2010, the University added a vision statement and articulated a set of core values to help guide planning and decision-making.

Mission

The American University in Cairo (AUC) is a premier English-language institution of higher learning. The University is committed to teaching and research of the highest caliber, and offers exceptional liberal arts and professional education in a cross-cultural environment. AUC builds a culture of leadership, lifelong learning, continuing education and service among its graduates, and is dedicated to making significant contributions to Egypt and the international community in diverse fields. Chartered and accredited in the United States and Egypt, it is an independent, not-for-profit, equal-opportunity institution. AUC upholds the principles of academic freedom and is dedicated to excellence.

Vision

Our vision is to be a world-class university internationally recognized for its leadership and excellence in teaching, research, creative expression, and service.

Values

- Excellence: We continually strive to be among the best in all we do: in teaching, research, creative expression, service to our communities, and service to each other in our daily interactions.
- Diversity: We seek to treat all individuals with dignity and fairness and to promote understanding and respect for diversity of perspectives, traditions, and experiences.
- Social Responsibility: We are committed to exploring the challenges that confront Egypt, the region, and the world and to using our intellectual and creative capabilities to address these challenges, serve our communities, and have a positive and sustainable impact on development, business, the environment, and society.
- Integrity: We believe that individuals are accountable for their actions, and, as members of a community, our individual actions have an impact on others. We are stronger as a community when we reflect on the consequences of our decisions and actions and we uphold the principles of academic integrity, including fairness, accountability, and honesty.
- Lifelong Learning: We believe that the pursuit of knowledge, understanding, and personal and professional development should continue throughout one's lifetime.

UNIVERSITY LEARNING OUTCOMES

There are many different kinds of learning experiences at AUC: from the classroom to the laboratory; from the athletic field to the performance space; from the student organization working in a village to a group of Model United Nations students competing in New York. This complex university offers many programs of study as well as co-curricular and extra-curricular learning experiences to a diverse and talented study body.

Within this complexity, there are shared themes, including a common Core Curriculum, across the various schools and programs that are designed to shape the undergraduate experience at AUC. Using AUC's mission statement as a guide, the University developed a set of key institutional learning outcomes for all undergraduate students. These outcomes, which derive from institutional documents approved through the University's formal governance structure, are achieved through an array of programs, courses, and other learning experiences.

Through their courses of study, AUC graduates should attain proficiency in:

Professional Skills

AUC graduates will synthesize discipline-based knowledge with a broad-based liberal arts education. They will be proficient in the tools of their discipline as well as the tools of research and learning; make decisions that reflect the highest standards of ethical conduct and professional behavior; and understand the importance of life-long learning.

Advanced Communication Skills

AUC graduates will be fluent in English and will be able to write and speak effectively in a variety of settings. AUC graduates will be able to communicate in Arabic, establish rapport in groups, be adaptable to new circumstances, work both independently and in collaboration with others, and function effectively as leaders.

Critical Thinking

AUC graduates will be independent learners, adept at using current technologies to access information and applying strong quantitative, analytical, and critical thinking skills to analyze and synthesize complex information to solve problems.

Cultural Competence

AUC graduates will have an understanding and appreciation of Egyptian and Arab culture and heritage, as well as an understanding of international interdependence, cultural diversity, and consideration for values and traditions that may differ from their own. In addition, AUC graduates will have an aesthetic awareness of the various modes of human artistic expression and will be able to collaborate effectively in a multicultural context.

Effective Citizenship

AUC graduates value service to their local community and to broader causes at the national and international level.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF AUC

The American University in Cairo (AUC) is an independent, nonprofit institution offering English language, American-style liberal arts and professional undergraduate and graduate education to students from Egypt, the region, and around the world. In Egypt, AUC operates within the framework of a 1975 protocol with the Egyptian government; this protocol is based on a 1962 cultural relations agreement between the Egyptian and the U.S. governments. In the United States, the University is licensed to grant degrees and is incorporated by the State of Delaware.

AUC was founded in 1919 as both a preparatory school and a university by a group of Americans devoted to education and service in the Middle East. Its founding president, Dr. Charles Watson, wanted to create an English-language university based on high standards of conduct and scholarship and to contribute to the intellectual growth, discipline, and character of the future leaders of Egypt and the region. At first an institution only for males, AUC enrolled its first female student in 1928, the same year the first university class graduated. In 1950, AUC added its first graduate programs to its ongoing bachelor of arts, bachelor of sciences, graduate diploma, and continuing education programs, and in 1951, phased out the preparatory school program. By the mid-1970s, the University offered a broad range of liberal arts and sciences programs. In the following years, the University added bachelors, masters, and diploma programs in engineering, management, computer science, journalism and mass communication and sciences programs, as well as establishing a number of research centers in strategic areas, including business, the social sciences, philanthropy and civic engagement, and science and technology. AUC now offers 35 bachelor's degrees, 43 master's degrees, and doctoral degrees in applied sciences and engineering in addition to a wide range of graduate diplomas in five schools: Business, Global Affairs and Public Policy, Humanities and Social Sciences, Science and Engineering, and the Graduate School of Education.

Academic program enrollments have grown to nearly 5,300 undergraduates with an additional 1,267 graduate students (Fall 2013). Adult education expanded at the same time and now serves more than 16,000 students each year in non-credit courses and contracted training programs offered through the School of Continuing Education. Ninety-three percent of AUC students are Egyptian, with the remaining 7% comprised of nationalities from around the world.

Long considered a leader in higher education in the region, the University has sought national, regional, and international accreditation as a means of fostering excellence in governance and academics. In addition to its accreditation by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, AUC is the first university in Egypt to receive accreditation from Egypt's new National Authority for Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Education (NAQAAE) at the institutional level, and the School of Sciences and Engineering at the school level. In addition, many of AUC's academic programs have received specialized accreditation.

For most of its nearly 100-year history, AUC was located in the heart of downtown Cairo, a city of more than 18 million people and the largest urban area of the Middle East and North Africa. The nine-acre campus, which covered parts of five city blocks, was crowded and fragmented. In 1997, the University decided to relocate the campus to the planned community of New Cairo and use the opportunity of building a campus from scratch to create a "City of Learning", designed to embody the University's liberal arts tradition and provide room for growth. The University launched a very successful $100 million comprehensive capital campaign in 2003 to raise construction funds as well as additional monies for scholarships, professorships, and other strategic areas. In 2008, the University moved its academic programs from its downtown campus to a purpose-built 260-acre campus in the Cairo suburbs. The downtown campus was refurbished to accommodate the growing continuing and professional education programs.

Since its move to the new campus, the University has explored ways to make best use of the beautiful, state of the art facilities and to offset any challenges that resulted from the move – for academic and co-curricular programs, students, faculty, staff, and the community surrounding the Tahrir campus. Egypt's January 25th revolution and the resulting political, economic, and social upheaval have greatly affected the entire AUC community but have also reinforced the importance of AUC's mission and the role it plays in the region.

In February 2014, the university awarded its first PhD degree.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The student government at The American University in Cairo is divided into three branches: an executive branch, represented by the Student Union, a legislative branch, represented by the Student Senate, and a judicial branch, represented by the Student Court.

The Student Union (SU) is the highest executive body and authority of the General Assembly and operates in accordance with the Constitution of the General Assembly of the student body. The SU represents both full-time and part-time students at the university and serves to connect and develop the student body. Members must be enrolled at AUC as full-time students, with good academic and social standing.

The Student Senate is the highest legislative authority and is the link between the SU and the General Assembly. The Student Senate is responsible for overseeing the performance of the SU and initiating legislature for the General Assembly in accordance with the Constitution. SS members are representatives from various constituencies of the student body: undergraduate students from different majors as well as ELI and undeclared students, graduate students and international students. The work of the Senate is divided among several committees: Legislative, Monitoring, External Affairs, Public Opinion, Clubs and Conferences, Large Scale Events, Press Board, Sports, and the Graduate Student Senate Ad-Hoc Committee.

The Student Court is a monitoring body, run by and for students. It addresses specific student concerns, and members are elected on an annual basis. The Student Court ensures that the SU and all clubs abide by the respective independent constitutions, as well as general University policy. The Court also ensures that SU members and club officers fulfill their responsibilities in a transparent and competent manner and monitors the presidential elections, so as to ensure an objective and impartial electoral process. On an individual level, the Student Court hears complaints of students against fellow students and tries to resolve conflicts by acting as a peer mediator. The Student Court is represented in the Student Disciplinary Committee, which addresses students' misconduct, both in and out of class. The committee also monitors compliance with the University Drug and Alcohol Policy and works in cooperation with the University's Academic Integrity Committee.

ACCREDITATION

Accreditation is a mark of excellence indicating endorsement by peer reviewers. Accreditation is critically important to universities, especially in a global context where prospective students, faculty members and employers view it as a measure of academic excellence and institutional quality. The self-study process, which involves participants from every unit of the institution, is an opportunity to examine where the University and/or its programs stand in terms of best practices, focus efforts on areas that need enhancement and changes, and define new challenges in academic endeavors and organizational matters. More information on AUC's accreditation is available at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/accreditation/Pages/default.aspx>.

Career Level:

Undergraduate: Students enrolled as freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior students

Graduate: Students enrolled in Master's or Doctoral programs

Special: Students who are not enrolled in a university degree program

Class Level: Class level is determined by the number of credit hours successfully completed by the student.

Freshman: An undergraduate student who has earned less than 30 credit hours

Sophomore: An undergraduate student who has earned at least 30 and less than 60 credit hours.

Junior: An undergraduate student who has earned at least 60 and less than 90 credit hours.

Senior: An undergraduate student who has earned at least 90 credit hours.

Completion Rate: The percentage of degree-seeking freshman (not including transfers or re-admits) that were enrolled for the first time in the Fall and completed requirements and graduated within a specific time period. This report looks at four-year and six-year completion rates.

Degree-Seeking Student: A student enrolled in courses for academic credit and recognized by AUC as seeking a degree.

Duplicated Student Headcount: A student is counted once in each of the programs in which he/she is enrolled.

Major: AUC offers courses of study leading to bachelor's degrees in various academic fields. Undergraduates must select a major and fulfill the requirements of the department offering the degree.

Nationality: Nationality is reported as primary nationality. If a student has more than one nationality, the primary nationality is the one that appears first on the admissions application.

International: Students whose primary nationality is other than Egyptian.

Re-Admit Student: A student who was enrolled at AUC, left for one or more semesters, and then re-enrolled at AUC. Re-admit students might or might not have earned credits at a different institution prior to re-enrolling at AUC.

Retention Rate: The percentage of enrolled students who return to the university during a specific time frame. In this report, first-year to second-year retention is reported; this is the percentage of first-time first-year students enrolled in the first year who return for their second year.

Transfer Student: A transfer student is a student who earned credits at a different institution prior to enrolling at AUC.

Selectivity: The percentage of student applicants that are admitted to the university.

Study Abroad students may attend AUC for no more than two semesters and a summer session.

In addition, AUC offers its degree-seeking students a wide variety of study abroad opportunities, mostly on an exchange basis, for a semester or an academic year. AUC has established more than 60 university exchange programs, with countries that include India (1), Japan (2), Singapore (1), Denmark (1), France (3), Germany (4), Greece (1), Hungary (1), Italy (1), Netherlands (1), Poland (2), Portugal (1), Spain (2), Sweden (1), Turkey (1), the UK (2), Lebanon (1), Qatar (1), Canada (4), and the US (32). A full listing of the participating universities is available at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/students/IPO/SA/Pages/Description.aspx>.

LIBRARIES AND LEARNING TECHNOLOGIES (LLT)

AUC Libraries and Learning Technologies consist of the Libraries (Main Library and the Rare Books and Special Collections Library) and the Center for Learning and Teaching.

Main Library: The AUC Library supports the instructional and research needs of the AUC community, facilitating the transformation of information to knowledge, by providing personalized services and a robust online environment. The Library provides the academic community with one of the largest English language research collections in Egypt. AUC Libraries are accessible online at <http://library.aucegypt.edu/>.

AUC Tahrir Square Library: The AUC Tahrir Square Library provides academic support primarily for the eligible students of the School of Continuing Education, the Engineering and Science Services, the Management Center and the Graduate School of Education. Located on the third floor of the Falaki Academic Center in AUC Tahrir Square, the library operates as an electronic library providing direct access to the AUC Library's LibraryOne Search, catalog and academic databases, as well as the full scope of the Internet.

Rare Books and Special Collections Library: The Rare Books and Special Collections Library supports research and teaching in the arts, culture, and society of Egypt and the Middle East. The library documents ancient, medieval, and modern Egypt and the wider region, with particular strengths in Egyptology, Islamic Art and Architecture, and travel literature, the focus of extensive rare and contemporary book collections. The library also collects archival and manuscript collections reflecting modern Egyptian social, cultural, and intellectual life. The library also houses AUC's University Archives, which maintains records relating to the university's history dating to the early twentieth century. The Rare Books and Special Collections Library is available online at: <http://lib.aucegypt.edu/screens/rbscl.html>

The Center for Learning And Teaching: The Center for Learning and Teaching (CLT) supports AUC faculty members to enhance their teaching by:

- Serving as a campus focal point for teaching, learning and educational technology activities
- Promoting faculty Continuous Professional Development (CPD) by providing support and recognition for their efforts to improve their pedagogical skills via workshops on pedagogy and integration of technology in teaching and learning. Other services and programs include mid-semester assessments, a bi-weekly newsletter, individual consultations, the Student Technology Assistant program and more.
- Encouraging and supporting the development of teaching as a scholarly activity by facilitating Classroom Action Research (CAR) and the dissemination of results

- Assessing and following-up faculty/student use of learning technologies and the effectiveness of these technologies on the learning process
- Playing a key role in enhancing academic integrity by facilitating preventive educational and training activities
- Acquainting part-time faculty with teaching in a liberal arts institution
- Contributing to the professional development of teaching assistants
- Engaging in outreach activities related to the field of teaching and learning both on a national, regional and international level

COMMUNITY-BASED LEARNING

The Community-Based Learning (CBL) program, established in Fall 2008 as part of the campus infrastructure to forward civic engagement, aims to support and foster community-based learning, which is a methodology that advances articulated learning goals through student service to a partner community. The CBL program was originally established and managed by both the John D. Gerhart Center for Philanthropy and Civic Engagement and the Center for Learning and Teaching. In 2012-2013, the program was moved to the Office of the Dean of Undergraduate Studies. Launched from the classroom and lectures, readings, and discussions, students apply academic theories and innovative thinking in co-developmental, hands-on service with local, Egyptian, and international communities.

In 2013, AUC joined Campus Compact, a national coalition of more than 1,100 college and university presidents representing more than six million students, who are committed to fulfilling the civic purposes of higher education.

RESEARCH CENTERS

Access to Knowledge for Development Center (A2K4D)

Access to Knowledge for Development Center (A2K4D) is a center for academic scholarship, research and policy analysis on access to knowledge for development in Egypt and the Arab world. A2K4D promotes multi disciplinary research meant to further conceptualize and investigate the economic, legal, political and social issues confronting access to knowledge in Egypt and the region. Based on solid theoretical foundations, A2K4D research offers rigorous empirical analysis of public policy in areas as diverse as ICTs, software, health, trade, education, culture and agriculture.

AUC Forum

The AUC Forum applies respected academic standards to the analysis of policy-oriented issues. In addition, the AUC Forum highlights issues that bridge the Middle East and the wider world. To this end, the AUC Forum, alone or in collaboration with national, regional, and international institutions, holds conferences, international workshops, and panels on timely topics crucial to the region and the world in the twenty-first century.

Center for Migration and Refugee Studies

The Center for Migration and Refugee Studies (CMRS) was first established in 2000 as the Forced Migration and Refugee Studies program (FMRS) and was expanded in 2008 into a Regional Center encompassing all forms of international mobility, whether voluntary or forced, economic or political, individual or collective, temporary or permanent. CMRS activities include graduate education, research and outreach activities. CMRS offers a Master of Arts in migration and refugee studies, a graduate diploma in forced migration and refugee studies, and a new graduate diploma in Applied Psychosocial Interventions for forced migrants and refugees. The CMRS research program includes a systematic and comparative inventory of the situation regarding migration and refugee movements across the Middle East and North Africa (MENA), as well as in-depth studies of emerging issues in the region. CMRS outreach includes disseminating knowledge on migration and refugee issues beyond the university's gates, as well as providing a range of educational services to refugee communities in Cairo.

The Center for Translation Studies (CTS)

The Center for Translation Studies is a research facility that fosters collaborative outreach programs and research in translation and translation studies within an interdisciplinary context.

Cynthia Nelson Institute for Gender and Women's Studies

The Institute for Gender and Women's Studies is a multipurpose and interdisciplinary research center that serves scholars interested in gender and women's studies in the Middle East/North Africa, South Asia and Africa.

Economic and Business History Research Center (EBHRC)

The Economic and Business History Research Center (EBHRC) was established in early 2004 with the goal of creating a repository of primary recordings of first-hand accounts to Egypt's contemporary history with special emphasis on economic and business history. In a country rich in events and history and comparably poor in transparency and in accessibility of records, the centre perceived its task as capturing the untold history, the stories and narratives locked up in the memories of people.

El Khazindar Business Research and Case Center

El Khazindar Business Research and Case Center provides world-class case studies and other educational services offering students outstanding participant-centered learning tools. KCC's services are dedicated to developing top caliber students, connecting businesses and students in the region and ultimately contributing to the betterment of the society through academic research and practical applications.

John D. Gerhart Center for Philanthropy and Civic Engagement

Established in honor of AUC's former president, the John D. Gerhart Center for Philanthropy and Civic Engagement consolidates university activities aimed at encouraging engaged citizenship and service and promotes philanthropic giving in the Arab region. Combining learning, research, service and advocacy, the center works to expand the boundaries of philanthropy, moving it beyond charity toward social justice and development.

Middle East Studies Center (MESC)

The American University in Cairo's Middle East Studies Center draws upon various methods and disciplines of study. The interdisciplinary nature of the Area Studies program provides students with exposure to a variety of curricula. Students are given the unique opportunity to study the Middle East through an array of historical, sociological, political and economic frameworks.

Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Al Saud Center for American Studies and Research

The Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Al Saud Center for American Studies and Research serves as a catalyst for independent research in American studies both within the university and with the outside community by providing intellectual and information resources to support those wishing to study the United States more fully.

Research Institute for a Sustainable Environment (RISE)

RISE serves as a multidisciplinary institute dedicated to promoting research in sustainable environment in Egypt, the Middle East and North Africa. Housed on the New Cairo campus, RISE carries forward the Desert Development Center's (DDC) legacy and many of its research and training activities. The institute represents a reaffirmation and strengthening of AUC's commitment to sustainable environmental education and research in Egypt and the region. Building on the accomplishments of the DDC in natural resource management, renewable energy and sustainable agriculture in desert areas, RISE has the expanded mission to promote sustainability in a diversity of environments in Egypt and the region, including rural and urban, desert and temperate, through applied research, education and training programs. RISE operates a research station and outreach center for educational programs, technical training and community services at Sadat City. On campus, the institute is designed to provide new opportunities for AUC students to learn and engage with the environment and related sustainability issues. RISE research facilities on campus provide students with a living learning laboratory in which to seek solutions to real-life resource and environment problems.

Social Research Center

The Social Research Center conducts and encourages multidisciplinary social science research in Egypt and the Arab region, trains researchers, guides and assists graduate students, scholars and organizations engaged in social science research in the region.

Yousef Jameel Science and Technology Research Center

The Science and Technology Research Center supports a variety of nanoscience and technology-oriented projects. Research activities are centered around generic imaging, analysis and fabrication equipment and focus on nanomaterials characterization and design and fabrication of micro-opto-electromechanical systems.

Definitions

Academic year: Fall and Spring semesters of a given academic year

Fiscal year: The twelve-month period of July 1 of one year to June 30 of the following year. Prior to FY2013, the fiscal year was September 1 of one year to August 31 of the following year. A change in the fiscal year was made in 2013, which was a transitional 10-month period of September 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013.

Operating revenues and expenditures:

Operating revenue:

Academic program tuition: Undergraduate and graduate tuition

Endowment income and annual gifts: Endowments are permanent funds established to provide institutions with a regular source of investment income. A portion of the income earned from endowment fund investments is returned to the endowment so that the endowment can be maintained in real terms to provide a hedge against inflation. Annual giving and AID/ASHA support are two separate sources of funds, where the former represents funds from private sources in the form of gifts from corporations, alumni, supporters, members of the governing board and friends, and the latter is institutional support awarded on a competitive basis by the US government.

Auxiliaries: Income from self-supporting activities, including student housing and the AUC Press and Bookstores.

Adult education: Income from adult and continuing education services

Research and sponsorships: Income that supports specific research activities. This category includes restricted and unrestricted grants and contracts provided by governments, international agencies and private organizations and individuals.

Miscellaneous: Includes income generated from other sources and supplementary activities.

Operating expenditures:

Instruction and academic support: This category includes expenditures for all activities that are part of an institution's instructional programs and for activities that directly support the instruction function, such as the Library, Deans' offices, audiovisual and media services, and others.

Administration and general: The expenses of all activities of administrative offices, regardless of executive level, including student services that are not related to instruction and academic support

Auxiliaries: Expenditures from self-supporting activities, including student housing and the AUC Press and Bookstores

Operations and maintenance of plant: This category includes all expenditures of current operating funds for the operation and maintenance of the university's physical plant. It includes all expenditures for operations established to provide services and maintenance related to grounds and facilities.

Adult education: Expenditures related to providing adult and continuing education services
Research and Sponsorship: This category includes all expenditures for activities specifically organized to produce research outcomes, whether commissioned by an agency external to the institution or separately budgeted by an organizational unit within the institution.

Contingency and miscellaneous: All expenditures that are incurred from other uses and supplementary activities. The contingency fund is used for unplanned expenses.

Tuition: The amount of money charged to students for instructional services. Tuition may be charged per term, per course, or per credit. For undergraduate and graduate students, tuition is charged per credit hour.

Undergraduate financial aid resources: Federal Work Study, grants, loans to students (government and/or private), assistantships, scholarships, fellowships, tuition waivers, tuition discounts, employer aid (tuition reimbursement) and other monies (other than from relatives/friends) provided to students to meet expenses. This excludes loans to parents.

Scholarships/grants:

AUC scholarships: Endowed scholarships, achievement scholarship, annual gifts and tuition funded grants, awarded by the college, excluding athletic aid and tuition waivers

Scholarships/grants from external sources: Scholarships and grants received from outside (private) sources that students bring with them (e.g., Kiwanis, National Merit scholarships). The institution may process paperwork to receive the dollars, but it has no role in determining the recipient or the dollar amount awarded.

Self-help:

Student loans: Any monies that must be repaid to the lending institution for which the student is the designated borrower. Includes all Title IV subsidized and unsubsidized loans and all institutionally- and privately-sponsored loans. Does not include PLUS and other loans made directly to parents.

AUC work-study: Student employment packaged as financial aid. At AUC, this aid is not need-based.

Other:

Athletic awards: Aid that is awarded based on athletic achievement.

Tuition waivers: Tuition waivers are not grants of cash but represent tuition charges waived for approved courses during the semester of the award. For the purposes of this report, tuition waivers include only tuition waived for faculty and staff and their dependents, as an employment benefit. By definition, this is non-need-based, since need is not evaluated, although it might meet need in individual cases.

Need-based aid: Aid used to meet financial need. Aid that is non-need-based but that was used to meet need should be counted as need-based aid.

Non-need-based aid: Aid that is not awarded based on financial need.

Voluntary Support: Voluntary support is defined as monetary support from individuals, corporations, partnerships, foundations, associations, and other non-governmental entities for which no expectation of economic benefit to the grantor exists or is implied. Unfilled pledges are not included.

Alumni: This is defined as persons who have enrolled at the American University in Cairo and have completed at least one semester of classes and all persons who have received an honorary degree from the university. This includes students enrolled in programs that do not result in a degree, such as study-abroad, special, and diploma programs.

Corporations: This category includes corporations, business, partnerships and cooperatives organized for profit-making purposes, including corporations owned by individuals and families.

Foundations: This category includes family foundations and other foundations and trusts.
Geographical Distribution

Other individuals: Individuals who are not alumni. This includes parents, trustees, faculty, staff, and other individuals.

Other organizations: This category includes all organizations not defined as foundations or corporations.

Chart 4: Percent Change in First-Year Undergraduate Tuition (EGP)

⁵⁵ Tuition rates are the published rates for full tuition, before any financial aid is awarded. Fall tuition rates are doubled to provide a figure representing a full year's tuition. This number does not represent average tuition. Tuition is denominated in EGP for Egyptians and qualified residents and in USD for international, non-qualified residents.

⁵⁶ Tuition rates in USD for the purposes of this table are calculated by converting Fall and Spring semester tuition in EGP using the Fall 2013 exchange rate (7.05 EGP/USD).

⁵⁸ Tuition rates are denominated in Egyptian pounds and are the published rate, before financial aid, for Egyptian students taking 12 credits per semester at the undergraduate level or nine credits at the graduate level. Fall tuition rates are doubled to provide a figure representing a full year's tuition. This number does not represent average tuition.

CAMPUS SUSTAINABILITY

In September 2011, AUC affirmed its commitment to environmental sustainability and a reduced carbon footprint by creating the Office of Sustainability. This office is responsible for addressing AUC's environmental challenges, including climate change, resource scarcity, pollution and waste management, in ways that also improve the University's operations, strengthen its finances and enhance its reputation. Since that time, the Office of Sustainability has worked with campus partners to document and address issues related to AUC's environmental impact. The Office of Sustainability is a division of the Office of the Executive Vice President for Administration and Finance.

From 2011 to 2013, AUC reduced its energy consumption university-wide by one third, and from 2012 to 2013, AUC reduced its total water consumption at the New Cairo campus by more than seven percent.

Campus Recycling

In Spring 2013, AUC launched a recycling program, installing sorting stations for campus waste as a first step in developing a trash management system on campus. There are thirteen sorting stations installed on campus, originally installed in February 2013. By early March 2014, the University had also installed 30 mini sorting stations.

Carbon Footprint Report

In 2012, the Office of Sustainability and the university's Desert Development Center, now the Research Institute for Sustainable Environments, developed the AUC Carbon Footprint Report, the first attempt in the Middle East and North Africa region to measure a university's carbon footprint. In 2013, AUC published its second report, including seven sets of specific recommendations to reduce AUC's carbon footprint. More information is available on AUC's website at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/about/sustainability/Pages/default.aspx>.

Research Institute for a Sustainable Environment (RISE)

RISE serves as a multidisciplinary institute dedicated to promoting research in sustainable environment in Egypt, the Middle East and North Africa. Housed on the New Cairo campus, RISE carries forward the Desert Development Center's (DDC) legacy and many of its research and training activities. The institute represents a reaffirmation and strengthening of AUC's commitment to sustainable environmental education and research in Egypt and the region. Building on the accomplishments of the DDC in natural resource management, renewable energy and sustainable agriculture in desert areas, RISE has the expanded mission to promote sustainability in a diversity of environments in Egypt and the region, including rural and urban, desert and temperate, through applied research, education and training programs. RISE operates a research station and outreach center for educational programs, technical training and community services at Sadat City. On campus, the institute is designed to provide new opportunities for AUC students to learn and engage with the environment and related sustainability issues. RISE research facilities on campus provide students with a living learning laboratory in which to seek solutions to real-life resource and environment problems.

Universitas Indonesia (UI) Greenmetric World University Ranking

The UI Greenmetric World University Ranking was established in 2010 as an online "green" ranking for universities throughout the world, with participation from universities in 35 countries. In 2013, AUC, in its first year of participation, was ranked 101 out of 300 universities. In addition, AUC scored 25th in the energy and climate change category, the most heavily weighted metric which looked at efforts to reduce energy use and mitigate climate change, and 39th in water usage and conservation. More information is available at <http://greenmetric.ui.ac.id/id/page/ranking-2013>.

PARKING CAPACITY

AUC provides students, faculty, and staff with a comprehensive and flexible bus service for transportation to the New Cairo campus over a wide range of routes throughout greater Cairo, and it encourages the university community to consider commuting to the new campus by bus. For those members of the community wanting to drive, the university makes limited on-campus parking services available.
